Magyar Grafika is a technical-scientific magazine published by the Hungarian Technical Association of the Papermaking and Printing Industries, now in its 64rd year. Of the readers of our magazine 71% have had a higher education and are in responsible positions within the printing industry. The annual frequentation of our website (from November 2018 until november 2019) has been 459016 which means 1257 visits per day. With our online newsletter we reach 12 times a year per occasion more than 2000 representatives of the profession and the opening statistics is above 30% within 24 hours. Our magazine is theme-centered. The articles are always arranged around a central theme. At the same time we also bring the most interesting, actual news of the life of the profession. These we present primarily with a bias towards their technical content and with an up-to-dateness by fusing our online and print editions. Several of our issues are used in technical schools as instruction material. Our magazine was awarded in 2004 a prize for editorial standards, in 2008 in the competition of Hungarian magazines a first place, in 2014 in the Media design competition a special prize. In 2016 with our Jubilee itinerant show we reached more than 2000 new contacts in 8 towns and cities of Hungary and our end-of-year event was held with the participation of one and a half hundred students. In 2017 the catalogue of the Budapest PPDexpo was published in our magazine. At the same time we strongly emphasize the care of memorials of printing and our content is recurringly enriched by articles on the history of the profession.
